NYC "Urban Folk and Jazz Artist" KJ DENHERT is set to release "The Songwriters Notebook", a 2004 collaboration with songwriter and guitarist Adam Falcon. The CD has been selected as a finalist in The Folk Singer Songwriter category of the Independent Music Awards. The CD is a showcase of acoustic guitars and vocals from the newly formed duo, with original tracks from Falcon and Denhart as well as notable arrangements of Jobim, The Beatles and Van Morrison tunes. Adam and KJ were introduced by a mutual friend and former venue owner Danny DiPaola who had a premonition that the two should meet and invited Adam several times to hear KJ and her band who were performing weekly at Danny's in Ossining. Denhart & Falcon have become regulars at a small venue in New Paltz, NY where the idea for the CD and its improvisational style was conceived. Since then, the duo has appeared in St. Barth's in the French West Indies and at a number of benefits including the Westchester County AIDS Walk and The PNW Womens Resource Center annual fund raiser held at The Towne Crier in Pawling, NY.

Known for her amazing stage performances, KJ Denhart breaks new ground for her independent record label, Mother Cyclone Records with this release, which is the first to feature another artist.
